Communion Sunday

Hebrews 10:23-25

Let us hold fast the profession of our faith without wavering; for he is faithful that promised; And let us consider one another to provoke unto love and to good works: Not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as the manner of some is; but exhorting one another: and so much the more, as ye see the day approaching.

faith

During the on-line and conference call, Communion will be addressed and blessed. You are asked to make preparations to have juice/water and cracker/bread available to represent communion.

From the Pastor's Desk...

FRIENDS, How Many Of Us Have Them?

CHRISTIAN friendships are nothing like worldly friendships; they're much stronger, more resilient, and built on the principles that Jesus Christ established. When we look at these types of biblical relationships, we see the characteristics of selflessness and Christian love. "This is my commandment, That ye love one another, as I have loved you. Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends" (John 15:12, 13). Jesus powerfully modeled this when he displayed his loyalty to his disciples, and when he shed his blood for us.

COMPARED to what we see in the world, the kind of relationships God wants for us are those that foster emotional health and wellbeing. They involve putting the other person's interests before our own, and providing godly advice when they need direction in life.

THE last thing we need is the APPEARANCE of friendship, where they are only our friend, when they need something, and then walk away as if we never existed until their next need arises.

REAL friends also never idly stand by and watch the other person make a mistake that could hurt them. "Two are better than one; because they have a good reward for their labour. For if they fall, the one will lift up his fellow: but woe to him that is alone when he falleth; for he hath not another to help him up" (Ecclesiastes 4:9, 10). Godly friends are willing to speak out in love when prompted by the Holy Spirit, even when they know that what they say won't be popular or well-received.

FRIENDS who have our best interest at heart are gifts from God. Surrounding ourselves with godly people who lovingly caution us when we're about to make a bad decision or wrong choice keeps us from walking into trouble. "The heartfelt counsel of a friend is as sweet as perfume and incense" (Proverbs 27:9, NLT). We can be thankful that Jesus' blood made this possible for us. Pleading His blood over every situation that surfaces in our friendships truly gives us power.
