November is American Diabetes Month

Diabetes occurs when your blood sugar level is too high and remains high. Over time, this will lead to other health issues, such as heart disease, kidney disease, vascular disease and eye disease. Some symptoms include increased thirst, frequent urination, unexplained weight loss and blurred vision. Risk factors are a family history of diabetes, over the age of 45, obesity, lack of exercise and race. Diabetes occurs more frequently in the Black and Hispanic/Latino populations. For more information, talk with your healthcare provider or your local American Diabetes Association (diabetes.org). Diabetes can be controlled and you can still have an active healthy lifestyle.
