Hebrews 10:23-25

Let us hold fast the profession of our faith without wavering; for he is faithful that promised;

And let us consider one another to provoke unto love and to good works: Not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as the manner of some is; but exhorting one another: and so much the more, as ye see the day approaching.

Remembering Who We Are as a People

Remembering who we are as a people is not just a cultural duty—it is a biblical command. All throughout Scripture, God tells His people to remember. In Deuteronomy 5:15, the Lord reminded Israel, “Remember that you were slaves in Egypt and that the Lord your God brought you out with a mighty hand and an outstretched arm.” Just like Israel, we must never forget the struggles of our past or the God who delivered us. To forget where we came from is to lose sight of both our pain and our progress. Remembering honors the shoulders on which we stand and keeps us humble as we carry the torch forward.

When we remember who we are, we embrace our identity as God’s chosen people, strengthened through trials and sustained by grace. Psalm 78:4 says, “We will not hide them from their children; we will tell the next generation the praiseworthy deeds of the Lord, his power, and the wonders he has done.” Our history is not just a record of suffering, but of perseverance, faith, and victory. Every testimony of our ancestors is proof that God is faithful. The enemy may try to erase our story or divide us as a people, but remembrance binds us together and gives us courage to face whatever lies ahead.

Finally, remembering who we are equips us to live with hope and purpose. Jesus Himself told His disciples in John 14:26 that the Holy Spirit would “bring all things to your remembrance.” Remembering fuels our vision for the future—it teaches us to pass down wisdom, preserve truth, and walk in boldness. In a world that constantly seeks to redefine us, we must hold fast to our God-given identity. To remember is to resist, to preserve is to prosper, and to teach is to triumph. We are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, a holy nation (1 Peter 2:9)—and when we remember that, no power on earth can strip us of who we are in Christ.
