Hebrews 10:23-25

Let us hold fast the profession of our faith without wavering; for he is faithful that promised;
And let us consider one another to provoke unto love and to good works: Not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as the manner of some is; but exhorting one another: and so much the more, as ye see the day approaching.

THE CONNECTION BETWEEN JOY AND STRENGTH

Life is what we make it. We've been given the freedom to choose either a miserable existence or an abundantly joyful, victorious life; it seems like a pretty simple choice, but if we don't learn to think like God thinks, life will knock us flat.

There will always be situations to go through and issues to overcome, but we have a secret weapon in God's Word. Meditating on it long enough gives us the strength not just to get by, but to overcome anything that comes against us.

Happiness comes from how we feel, but joy comes from what we know. When we know the biblical promises made specifically to us, not just intellectually but down deep in our spirit, it's hard not to rejoice and be thankful. God wants us to enjoy life.

"The thief cometh not, but for to steal, and to kill, and to destroy: I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly" (John 10:10). God's intent is to restore whatever the devil robs from our lives. The enemy attacks our minds, trying to introduce doubt, anxiety, worry, and fear. These are designed to steal our joy, but we don't have to tolerate these emotions.

Life would be boring if we never had any opportunities to flex our spiritual muscles; if daily living was too easy, we'd never grow to be strong Christians. The world may think that being a Christian means constantly looking serious and somber, but our strength is in the joy of the Lord (Nehemiah 8:10).

Yes, sometimes it's difficult to rejoice. During times when we're severely tested, rejoicing becomes a deliberate decision, a willful act to obey God's Word. "Even though the fig trees have no blossoms, and there are no grapes on the vines; even though the olive crop fails, and the fields lie empty and barren; even though the flocks die in the fields, and the cattle barns are empty, yet I will rejoice in the Lord! I will be joyful in the God of my salvation!" (Habakkuk 3:17, 18, NLT).

God honors this type of determination. Finding our joy opens the door to full, complete, and total restoration of everything that was missing, broken, or stolen.

Prayer for Our Sick & Shut-in

O Father of mercies and God of all comfort, our only help in time of need: We humbly beseech thee to behold, visit, and relieve thy sick servants for whom our prayers are desired. Look upon them with the eyes of thy mercy; comfort them with a sense of thy goodness; preserve them from the temptations of the enemy; and give them patience under his affliction. In thy good time, restore them to health, and enable him to lead the residue of his life in thy fear, and to thy glory; and grant that finally they may dwell with thee in their thoughts and actions. in Jesus Name, Amen
